

LET’S GET STARTED

YOUR NAME.

ABSTRACT. Warning: the content of this article will make no sense!

In American roulette, the house has an edge of $5.26\%^1$ in average, and thus gambler’s ruin applies.

I can typeset the names of mathematicians such as Arzelà, Čech, Erdős, Gödel, and l’Hôpital.

In the T_EXbook, Knuth says “the displaced ‘E’ is a reminder that T_EX is about typesetting, and it distinguishes T_EX from other system names.”

There are three different kinds of dashes: one in X-ray, one in page 17–22, and a punctuation dash—like this.

Date: May 14, 2021.

¹It is higher than that of French roulette.